We hope that Osama Bin Laden's death will bring some measure of closure to the families and friends of those that died on 9/11, many of whom are Muslim Americans, including members of the ISCJ community.

We join all Americans in expressing our relief, and echo President Obama's sentiment that we must remain vigilant against terrorists of all persuasions. We speak as Muslims, as Americans and as human beings who are committed to peace and democracy.

ISCJ has always and will continue to champion the fundamental core beliefs we hold dear: love of one's fellow neighbor; respect for others' ways of life, and; mutual dialogue and understanding.
